To whom it may concern,

My name is Richard Norton, a stunt coordinator and actor with over 40 years' experience within the entertainment industry.

Recently, I worked alongside Brendan in Impulse: The Flash Fan Series. We starred opposite each other in a number of scenes and, I must say, I was really impressed with Brendan's acting ability. He consistently delivered a believable and sincere performance with each take, took and adapted extremely well to notes from the director, and showcased quite the emotional range for someone so young. More importantly, he did the simple things: showing up on time, being off book, and fully immersing himself into the character of Bart Allen.

Personally, I think Brendan is an outstanding individual. He was very welcoming, and helped maintain a high morale amongst the cast and crew throughout a long day's shoot. I am aware that Brendan has grand goals of working internationally, and I truly believe that one day he will achieve them. He is full of ambition, determination, and if successful in his application, I have no doubts that he will fully devote himself to every opportunity presented to him.

Warm Regards,
